Obama Sees Signs of Christmas Future and Its Ghost Scares Him!

Obama's siding politically in the world arena with Castro, Chavez, and Ortega says tons about where his real loyalty is, far left ideology, socialism and fascism. It is not to our Constitution and the constitutional republic form of government. That is far too restrictive of "Presidents" like Obama. Honduras was acting under its Constitution acting with the combined force of two branches of their government, their Congress and Supreme Court, voting and declaring at least twice that what President down there was trying to do (working toward making himself President for life) was unconstitutional, before they threw him out before he could take over as a dictator like Chavez did. The Congress down there was in midst of the process of trying to impeach the Honduran "President". And in the end, the military agreed with the Congress and Supreme Court of Honduras as to who was on the right side of the Constitution. Obama ignored the People in Iran and sides with dictators in the Americas. Obama sides with the far, far left wannabee Chavez type dictator in Honduras rather than the country of Honduras' constitution, Congress, and Supreme Court. Maybe he sees signs of Christmas future for him in what happened down there in Honduras? And it scared him. 😊
